

DAILY CANDY

DALLAS
EDITION

TODAY'S CANDY

January 9, 2007

A Fudge in the Right Direction

John Kelly Chocolates

January 9, 2007

A Fudge in the Right Direction

You have every reason to believe in love at first sight.

Because once you locked eyes on John Kelly, his sweet demeanor, smooth looks, and irresistible charm were all but impossible to resist.

No matter that you were seduced by a box of chocolates. Inanimate object status aside, Kelly's decadent gourmet and truffle fudge bars are easy to fall for.

Especially since each one comes in two-, four-, and eight-ounce options, carefully wrapped in gold foil. And although their looks are appealing, you know it's what's on the inside that counts. One taste of the rich creations — like cappuccino with walnuts, peanut butter, or raspberry — is enough to hold your attention.

And since these treats pack a lot of punch, we suggest small nibbles. It's the best way to ensure your affections linger way beyond that first bite.

Because when it comes to matters of the heart, it's best to take it slow.

Available at Neiman Marcus NorthPark, 400 NorthPark Center (214-363-8311); online at johnkellychocolates.com